WEATHER BETTER MARKET LOWER

Widespread Rains Over Belt Cause Bulge, But Reaction Comes, Helped By Wave of Trade Reaction Resulting From Restricted Credits-Spots Are

BY GEORGE WILLIAMSON.

Conflict of influences and inability to determine just how much weight should be given to certain developments made the past week in the cotton market one of the notable ones of the season. Traders were still in a quandary as to whether the apparent reactionary wave in prices and business activity, attributed largely to effects of credit restrictions and higher money rates, should be given dominant place as a value determinative or give preference to the serious handleap under which the new crop is starting. For the time being advantage has been a little on the side of the former, but probably because the bulk of trading activity has come from that element called professional, which takes its first clew nearly all the time from what happers in the stock market. However, it is quite significant that pressure has been limited to acceptance of some profits and playing for quick dips, with seen limited to acceptance of some rofits and playing for quick dips, with lue sense of appreciation for the danter of being caught when the short rop possibilities get a proper hearing, or it has pretty generally assumed that naking a large crop this season is a lim possibility.

making a large crop this season is a slim possibility.

The period closed with futures in New York from 15 to 196 points net to the bad, while New Orleans closed at a loss of 11 to 125. There was early in the week an upward swing which carried some positions to new highs, but sharp reaction followed, and then recovery before the close. The expiration of the May option in New York at 38.46c, after selling as high as 42.98c earlier in the week, furnished a little feature, the issuance for several thousand notices a short while before enabling belated shorts to thus protect themselves.

and appreciation of the difficulties of making more than a moderate crop have Gisc uraged sellers, especially as options continue at discounts compared with spots and the holders of the latter are not expected to quit cold and but themselves at the mercy of the buyers.

The spectacular development of the week was the outburst of price reductions in certain lines of business, with the accompanying effects of disturbing confidence in the entire business fabric without additional shaking down. The most serious reductions have been in lines where restricted buying by the consumers and the reduction of loans by the banks could be felt first, with dumping of stocks of goods by speculative holders generally credited. There was semidemoralization for a time in the security markets as well as in grain, which was apparently due to practically the same tightening of money. From across the sea came advices of some kindred effects and Liverpeol was anything but optimistic and Manchester failed to be stimulated by the settling of their labor trouble. The contention that the trouble was not serious enough to shake the use of developments as an offset for the news from the fields.

but sharp reaction followed and their recovery before the close. The exitence of 50 in Augusta, and 25 in New Orf and quotations were as a rule reduce and quotations were as a rule reduced varying from 150 points to an advance of 50 in Augusta, and 25 in New Orf cans. Middling upland white cotton runges from 90 to 42 cents.

Weather Turns Better.

Nature was not any too kind in herdiage part of the belt, preceded by low temperatures, resulting in increased delay, although the rains were bershaps more favorable than otherwise in most of Texas. The week closed with the close part of the belt, worst conditions probably being in the central valley section and Northeastern Turns were content of the proposed to settle, but with field work still out of the question over a large part of the belt, worst conditions probably being in the central valley section and Northeastern Turns were condition reports, as Tuesday is the last day to be included and they are expected to be buillish. Predictions are that the percentage will approximate that low record of 69.5 made by the first report for the season of 1917, which would be regarded as very buillish, in view of labor conditions and the probabilities of acceage being less than last year. GRAIN MARKETS FROM WALL STREET

Nervousness in Corn, But Trading Light in Stocks and Market Appears in More Stable Position.

CHICAGO, May 22—Although much nervousness manifested itself in the corn market today, wild liquidation appeared to have been halted. Calls for heavily increased margins tended to exercise a sobering effect and there were signs that many influential interests regarded the drastic declines as having sufficiently discounted for at least the time being all bearish conditions. Opening prices which ranged from 2½c lower to 3½c advance, with July 1.58 to 1.61 and September 1.52 to 1.53 were followed by slight gains all around and then a general setback to about yesterday's finish.

Oats were strengthened by word of liberal export buying. After opening ½c off to ½c advance including July 156 core for the light priced in the dealings on selling of several of the high priced industrials. Crucible Steel reacting sharply. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 360,000 shares.

Range of prices on the New York stock exchange, with previous closing as stock market with occasional profit taking the total start as the day and their speciality responsive to Mexican advance, and allied issues, such as motors and their specialities, also made moderate gains. Rails and equipments improved on the betaler transportation outlook. Sugar, to be a still the priced in the dealings on selling of several of the high priced industrials. Crucible Steel reacting sharply. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 360,000 shares.

Oats were strengthened by word of liberal export buying. After opening at $5c to $6c, the market hardened somewhat and then eased back.

Provisions like grain showed comparative steadiness.

COTTON MARKETS

Market Loses Moderately on Improved Weather and Continued Uncertainty.

Saturday Afternoon, May 22.

Improved weather and continued effects of the reactionary wave had moderate depressing effect on prices at the outset today, followed by a slight temporary recovery and then by a sagging which carried prices to the bottom by closing time. News was not apparently important enough to occasion much action by the leading interests and they seemed to be hoping that better crop accounts will be coming for the next few days. A very sensational private crop condition report was given some circulation after the close, percentage being given as 64, without any acreage increases, but nothing indicated that it was known before the bell rang. It confirmed by the official report, due about Jane 2, there is probability of some lively doings, for such would be several points below the lowest first report on record.

At the close futures in New York were steady and 23 to 40 points to the bad. New Orleans left off 30 up to 24 down, the May position there being supported on the report that holders of the few longs left will demand the actual.

Liverpool will remain closed Monfay.

Liverpool will remain closed Monday. The spot markets were generally a shade lower, with sales small. New Or-leans sold 283 bales at 25 points lower,

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, May 22—The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of 5 to 60 points, generally 22 to 37 points lower, under a renewal of scattering liquidation and local pressure promoted by reports of a very small trade in cotton goods at first hands, talk of increased offerings of low grades in the Southwest and more detailed reports concerning the recent severe break in Egyptian cotton. There was a good deal of covering for over the week-end, however, while there was some trade huying on the decline and the week-end, however, while there was some trade buying on the decline and after selling at $7.70c for July and $4.55c for October there were rallies to $7.90c and $4.25c for these positions. This carried the market back to about last night's closing figures with October selling five points net higher.

The early railles met renewed liquidation and prices broke 50 to 60 points from last night's closing figures later in the morning with July selling at $3.25 and December at $3.37. There was trade buying at this level and a flurry of covering which caused closing railles of some 20 to 25 points. Last prices were steady.

Futures closed steady at decline of 23 to 40 points.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 22.—Cot-on declined in a moderate way today inder continued favorable weather conon declined in a moderate way loody under continued favorable weather conditions in the belt. The opening call brought decline of 4 to 23 points after which the market reacted on private accounts of heavy rains in the eastern belt, going to advances of 7 to 11 points over yesterday's close on the most active months. The weather map falled to show any moisture of consequence anywhere in the belt and after its posting prices fell of again, this time to not declines of 22 to 27 points, July dropped to 37 50c and October to 34 50c. Offerings increased following the forecast of continued dry weather for the entire cotton region and prices were sent 42 to 49 points under the finals of yesterday. July touching 37.28 and October 34.38. During the last half-hour of business shorts took profits on a large scale and their buying gave the market a firmer tone and brought about partial recoveries, the close being at net declines for the day of 14 to 24 points. points. Spots closed quiet at decline of 2 points. Ordinary, 22.75c; good ordinary 24.75c; low middling, 31 25c; middling 40.25c; good middling, 44.25c. Sales of the spot 283.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, May 22—Raw sugar, strong, centrifugal, 23.57c, nominal, refined firm; fine granulated, 20.50g. Sugar futures were less active after yesterday's violent break and the undertone was steadier. Opening prices were 25 points lower, but the market rallied partially on a fair demand from trade interests and the classing was five to ten points not love.

The investor who buys for keeps, rather than try to out-guess the market, is the man who makes money on listed stocks and bonds in the long run.

The Kriebel Plan of buying for keeps is proving profitable to large numbers of investors.

It enables you to control five times the volume that would be possible on a cash basis, yet you are not subject to margin calls, because it is an outright purchase.

You get all dividends while paying, and your money becomes productive as earned, without waiting for a large sum to accumulate.

Send for full information, and also ask for our yest pocket dictionary of Pinancial Terms. Every investor should have it. Address Dept. 1.
